[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JAN. 26.

EASTERN STATES.

The Atlantic and Pacific Railroad.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 25.—A meeting of the Board of Trade was held to-night to consider the question of the equitable extinguishment of Indian titles with the view to further the construction of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad along the 35th parallel of latitude. A number of prominent citizens and railroad men were present. Speeches were made, all favoring Congressional action to remove the obstacles to the progress of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad. Resolutions were adopted urging upon Congress the necessity and importance of immediate action to the end that all barriers may be at once removed that now impede the progress of the railroad between St. Louis and San Francisco, via Arizona Territory and New Mexico. The President of the Board was instructed to appoint a Committee to go to Washington and present this action to the Senators and Representatives from Missouri.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—In the Senate, Sawyer presented a resolution of the South Carolina Legislature instructing their Senators to vote for the supplementary civil rights bill.

Frelinghuysen presented a petition in reference to the duty on cast steel. He spoke against a reduction of the duty at present.

Wilson reported a bill to lease a portion of the Presidio reservation to San Francisco for a public park.

Cole asked for the immediate consideration of the bill, but Hamilton objected. The bill is to lease some 1,000 acres.

Wilson introduced a bill to prohibit the exportation of South Sea Islanders by American citizens. He said that the slave trade of these islands had recently sprung up.

Logan moved the immediate consideration of Sawyer's motion to reconsider the Chicago Relief bill.

Chandler said he had asked Sawyer to make the motion because its passage will be a great injury to his constituents in Michigan. (The fourteen days' speech.)

Pending discussion the Amnesty Bill was taken up. The Amnesty bill was postponed and made the special order for Monday, at 1 o'clock.

The Committee on Commerce reported a bill authorizing the Postmaster General to contract for an American line of steamers from New Orleans to Mexican and Cuban ports.

In the House a report was presented from the Joint Committee on Southern Outrages, recommending the adoption of a resolution calling upon the President for the information upon which he acted in exercising in the States the power conferred upon him by the Ku-Klux act, with all the particulars connected therewith, and such other information as will convey a correct idea of the state of affairs and the safety of life and property in the States of North and South Carolina, Kentucky, Mississippi, Texas and Louisiana, including the recent Legislative conflict in the latter State.

Brook offered a substitute confining the information asked to the State of South Carolina, inasmuch as that was the only State where martial law existed, and as it would require months to give all the information required in the original resolution.

The substitute was rejected and the resolution as reported was adopted.

Hale, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported in favor of the appropriation bill, which was made the special order Tuesday next. The bill appropriates $17,993,347.

In reference to the bill for the punishment of frauds in the Pension Office, Garfield stated that the Committee of Ways and Means had been assured yesterday by the Secretary of the Interior that fully one-fourth of pensions now paid were fraudulent. He had been so startled by such an extraordinary statement that he had written down the words at the time, and the Commissioner of Pensions, who was present at the time, confirmed the statement.

Butler, of Massachusetts, and Hale, of Maine, made remarks confirmatory of the statement, the latter alluding particularly to a batch of two or three cases in the New York applications for pensions of 1812; which were all found to be fraudulent and gotten up by claim agents, some of whom had been arrested, tried and convicted, while others had fled to Canada.

SOUTH AMERICA.

The Colombian Government Revolutionary.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Minister Hurlbut, at Bogota, announces officially to Secretary Fish the bankruptcy of the Colombian government and recommends that the United States grant an extension of time for the payment of the Panama bonds, as requested by the Colombian government.

MEXICO.

Progress of the Rebellion.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 25.—At Matamoras Gen. Macedonia Capistran, President of the Supreme Court of the State of Tamaulipas, issued a proclamation yesterday against the Government, advising his friends to prepare for action. He has heretofore wielded great influence on the frontier and has been foremost in suppressing revolutions. Severe fighting is reported at Camargo yesterday between Cortinas and Gairoga, in which the revolutionists were victorious. The telegraph was cut during the night and rumors of Gairoga's advance on this city prevailed all day.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

From Vienna.

VIENNA, Jan. 25.—The Lower House of the Reichsrath to-day, without debate, passed to the second reading of the convention between Austria and the United States, recently negotiated by the Ministers.

Spanish Affairs.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—A decree was read in the Cortes dissolving the Senate and Congress. An election for a new Cortes is ordered for April 2d. The new body is convoked for the 24th of April.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—Soon after midnight two members of the Provost guard from Presidio, arrested a drunken soldier at the Olympia lodgings on Clay and Kearney streets, and put him in a hack to take him to headquarters. In the hack a fight occurred and the prisoner escaped. The Corporal of the guard fired a revolver at him, and the ball not hitting him whistled past the head of Superintendent Kenny and passed through the face and neck of Alexander Anderson, a citizen, who was walking on the street, inflicting a dangerous wound. The prisoner escaped.

It is now thought the cost of the new City Hall may be kept within the limits of the Legislative appropriation, as the late bids for the work have all been at low figures.

The bark Brignardello, which has been beached just below the Cliff House for the past two years, went to pieces in the late gale.

The large quantities of lumber and shingles coming ashore near the Cliff House leads to the supposition that some lumber vessel had been wrecked during the gale.

Coming in—ship Great Admiral, 121 days from New York; made to Geo. Howes & Co.; ship Semiramis, 155 days from New York, 4,625 bars railroad iron to Geo. Howes & Co.

Thos. Lacy, the corporal of Provost Guard, who shot a citizen while making the arrest of a drunken soldier last night, was examined on a charge of assault to murder, by Judge Louderback to-day and discharged. It was shown that the shooting was wholly accidental.

Crowds of women have been to the morgue to-day to see the remains of the girl giving her name as Rose Kelly, who drowned herself on Wednesday night. As yet she has not been identified.

The trial of Mike Brohawa for the murder of "Whiteheaded Bob," is going on slowly. Dr. Letterman, late Coroner, is now on the stand. The Chief Justice of Japan is seated alongside of Judge Dwinelle and his assistants are taking careful note of the proceedings.

SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

Five thousand eight hundred and fifty Illinois soldiers were killed during the war of the rebellion, and 19,412 died of disease, making the proportion of deaths to the enlistments one to six.

The following notice, printed on colored card boards with a nice border, hangs up in a place of business in Rome, New York: "Mebbe you don't petter bad lonf round here, ven you don't go some peesniss, ain't it?"

In a California theater, a few nights since, a large red apple fell from the gallery and struck squarely upon the bald and shining pate of a gentleman in the dress circle, then bounded into the orchestra and broke a fiddle.

The Northern Pacific Company have taken measures in regard to tree planting along their line, which they will carry out the coming season. An enterprising real estate firm at Duluth recently gave an order for 100,000 trees, which they propose to donate to settlers on their own lands in the Red River Valley. The grower has two years in which to fulfil the contract.

The total number of passengers that arrived in California via the great public thoroughfares during 1871, was 42,010, of whom 22,817 came by overland railroad, and 12,193 by ocean routes. The departures in the same time were 31,778, of whom 21,896 were by rail, and 9,832 by ocean routes. These figures show a net gain of 10,262. Of these Oregon and Washington Territory received a large number.

Religious papers are not always profitable pecuniarily. For instance, the Cincinnati Christian Standard, with 12,000 subscribers, says its expenses have so far been $20,000 in excess of its income. The Chicago Advance, with a larger subscription list, sank $75,000 in four years, and had not reached the self-sustaining point at the time of the fire. The Interior in less than two years has used up a capital of $50,000, and the Chicago Standard, with 15,000 subscribers, was not self-sustaining.

A steamer on the Sacramento recently rescued three Chinamen who had found a temporary abiding place in the top of a big tree which had not been completely covered by the swollen stream. They were blue with cold and their stomachs were painful convictions. As the elder of the trio and possessor of the most gigantic queue remarked, when warming himself in front of the steamer's furnaces: "Too muchee heap cold; too muchee water—no too muchee glub. Three day no eatee noting. Dam!"

On one of the recent cold nights at Nashua (N. H.) a lady put her two boys to bed in a cold room, tucked them up and sat down on the edge of the bed to hear them say their prayers. Johnny, aged seven, got through all right and cuddled up to Willie, aged five, who had just commenced his prayer. Presently Willie began to hurry, the words came faster than he could distinctly utter them, and the prayer ended thus: "I pray the Lord my soul to keep amen—take your hand off'm or I'll warm your ear for you." Johnny was trying to tickle him.

The desperate illness and remarkable recovery of the Prince of Wales, seems likely to furnish a new chapter in medical as well as political history. The treatment of typhoid in old times was by depletion; in more recent times it has been by alcoholic stimulation. In the present case this was discarded and tonics given instead. It is quite possible that the success of the new treatment may give rise to researches which will end in the disuse of alcoholic stimulants in cases of disease where the exhaustion is so prolonged as in this.

The Nevada papers say the senatorial pot is beginning to boil already, although the goose will not be cooked till next winter. Five knights are reported as having "shied their castors into the ring," preparatory to battle for the senatorship. Nye wants the place again. John P. Jones wouldn't miss it. Minister DeLong has a hankering for it, yet; Governor Blasdel has hope, and William Sharon is going for it. As there are probably not more than 8000 voting Republicans in the State, the five candidates can see them all in a few days and decide the question who is the favorite months in advance of the meeting of the Legislature.

Through tickets around the world are now issued, the price being $1145 in gold; and the running time 81 days. The line of route, going westward, is from New York to San Francisco, say 3000 miles; San Francisco to Yokohama, 4,700, thence to Hong Kong, 1600 miles, thence to Bombay, 1400 miles, Bombay to Suez, 3000 miles, from Suez by the way of Alexandria and Brindisi to London, say 2900 miles, and from London to New York, 3200 miles. When the projected improvements of the Indian route are carried into effect across Europe and a great continental railroad is established with proper branches and connections through Asia, the trip around the world will be shorter in duration and space, and at the same time much more interesting.

Some weeks ago a man named Allen of New York brought suit against Fisk and Gould to receive $50,000 damages on an action for false imprisonment. The suit grows out of the proceedings of the Black Friday. Fisk and Gould having lost heavily on their gold transactions declined to pay. A suit was instituted to compel payment. Allen was the chief witness against them, and to prevent his appearance they had him arrested on a trumped up charge of perjury. He was thrown into prison until he could get bail, Fisk and Gould never appearing against him and letting the case drop, their purpose having been served by his arrest. They could do that in 1869—but this in 1872—and Nemesis is after them with a very sharp stick indeed.

The exact position of Mr. Colfax in regard to a renomination is stated authoritatively in a Washington dispatch. He says that while he cannot ask for a renomination, nor be regarded as antagonistic to the able men whose names have been suggested, he would feel it to be his duty to obey the voice of those who represent the party whose principles he has for so many years vindicated and supported; and if they place him in nomination for the Vice-Presidency at the approaching Republican National Convention, he will not refuse the nomination. While he has sincerely desired to be excused from further public service, he has at no time said that he would refuse to accept of the nomination. This is authoritative, and is considered by the friends of Mr. Colfax satisfactory, and they will feel authorized to present his name to the Convention.

Dawes, of Massachusetts, said in Congress last week that if the rule was adopted by the Executive not to give an appointment to any man recommended by a Congressman, it would do more to reform the civil service than any elaborate system contrived by any committee.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Syndicate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Following is the statement of Jay Cooke before the Ways and Means Committee regarding transactions of the Syndicate under arrangement with the Secretary of the Treasury: The Syndicate are allowed whatever remains of ¼ of 1 per cent. provided by law, and that is the entire compensation which Government pays. There are, of course, incidental advantages, such as are allowed under to national banks that become depositors of Government funds, which arrangement is entirely in the interest of the Government and commerce of the country. If the entire amount which the Government sometimes has to its credit was thrown into the sub-Treasury, there to remain locked up and idle, it would convulse the business of the world.

In reply to a question by a member of the Committee, Mr. Cooke said:

We say banks incidentally get an advantage through the deposition as depositors, while the Government loses nothing, because the money would otherwise be idle in the sub-Treasury and draw no interest. [Laughter.]

Mr. Kelley on half per cent and permission to retain money on deposit until required in payment of called bonds?

Mr. Cooke—That is all.

Mr. Kerr—Banks, however, really have advantage of three month's interest on the money. How much is that worth to the syndicate?

Mr. Cooke—I could not answer that question, because some would make more and some less on the use of the money. The arrangement is precisely what has been carried out with National Banks from the start.

Mr. Kerr—I want now to ask whether it is practicable for the Government of the United States to adopt a shorter period than ninety days within which to redeem its outstanding indebtedness?

Mr. Cooke—I do not think it would be right for the Government to treat its bondholders in any summary way by stopping the interest at once. These bonds are held very largely in Germany, and all over the country. It seems to me that ninety days' notice is as short as can be given. Of course, the Government of the United States can do anything it pleases. If Congress so directs, you can stop interest in sixty days or thirty days, or without notice at all.

Gen. Butler spoke before the Committee on Foreign Affairs this morning against the Storey clause in the Treaty of Washington.

An Indian delegation from the Cherokee country appeared before the House Committee on Territories to protest against a Territorial government for the Indians without their consent. The question was adjourned till next week.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Bates, U. S. Attorney for Utah, appeared before the House Committee on Territories, to-day, and recommended the necessity of appropriations to be made to carry on the prosecutions for polygamy in that Territory. The Senate Judiciary Committee to-day made a report on the memorials claiming the right of women to vote under the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments, and they say that the Committee are unanimously of opinion that said amendments do not confer the right of female suffrage. The power of the States to exclude women from voting being untouched by the amendments, and indeed is recognized by the 15th.

The Senate has confirmed M. A. Straffenburg as Marshal of Nevada, Jas. E. Calfey as Attorney for Arizona, S. S. Sinter as Register at Lewiston, Idaho; and Wm. A. Davis as Assessor of the 3d District of Colorado.

The Committee on Foreign Relations did not report to-day on the nomination of Chas. Hale to be Assistant Secretary of State. The Chairman, Senator Cameron, is absent, and no report is expected before his return, next Monday. Persons well informed say the statement that the Committee have agreed to report unfavorably on his nomination is not true.

The Daily Oregonian.

SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 27, 1872.

The Snow Blockade Across the Continent.

Never since the completion of the transcontinental railroad has communication been so much interrupted as during the present winter. For two months there has been a snow blockade which it has not been possible to raise more than a day or two at a time. A great force of men has been constantly employed along exposed portions of the line, but all their efforts have availed little toward keeping the road open.

It is evident that the travel and commerce of the country cannot long submit to these detentions. The continued obstruction of the only line of railway now existing across the continent will hasten the construction of other lines. San Francisco must have a road by a more southern route. She must have direct communication with the East by a route less liable to interruptions and blockades. This necessity will be the means of throwing more energy into the construction of the Southern Pacific Railroad.

It is a singular but well authenticated fact that the route of the Northern Pacific railroad, though lying so far north of the Union Pacific and Central Pacific, is less liable than they to heavy snows. The reason of this is found in the fact that the general altitude of the former route is much less than that of the latter one. The highest country crossed on the Northern Pacific is three thousand five hundred feet lower than the corresponding altitudes on the Union. Consequently it is believed that the Northern Pacific will very rarely be obstructed by snow. Experience of settlers in Montana shows that the average fall of snow there does not exceed that of Wisconsin and Minnesota. And owing to the comparative absence of winds, the snow does not drift so heavily as on the Union Pacific route.

Inasmuch as the interruptions on the central route mostly occur east of Salt Lake, it should be remarked that the building of the Salt Lake and Columbia river branch would not give Oregon a line that could always be relied on in winter.

Fisk and Erie.

Since the death of Fisk the defrauded shareholders of Erie hope to come by their own. Erie stock has risen, and the English shareholders whose rights have been so shamefully abused are pressing their suits with hopes of ultimate success. The story of these shareholders is well told by a writer in the January number of the American Law Review. It seems that in 1870 about forty-five thousand shares were supposed to be in the hands of English holders. Most of these remained untransferred on the books of the company, the owners holding only the original certificates, with transfers signed in blank indorsed upon them. The "Erie Shareholders' Protection Committee" was at last formed in London, when matters began to look very badly, and Messrs. Heath & Raphael were made the agents and representatives of the English owners. The certificates which were forwarded to them they transferred to New York, for the purpose of having the necessary transfers entered on the corporate books. The idea of these old fashioned Englishmen, pathetically droll in its simplicity, was, that when their stock stood in their own names they would vote on it, and with the help of a few honest American shareholders would oust the present directors. Their difficulties began early, for they could not even get their own shares placed in their own names. The potentates of Erie delayed, and Judge Barnard finally granted an injunction forbidding the transfer. The New York Tribune says that Barnard at the call of Fisk left his mother's death bed at Poughkeepsie, hastened down to New York and signed the order in the apartments of Fisk's mistress. Then an act for classifying the directors was passed, and Gould, Fisk, Tweed and Lane appeared as directors, with a five years' term of office. A petition to repeal the act was killed by the trick of bogus signatures. The Englishmen seemed thoroughly defeated; but the end was not yet. Certificates for sixty thousand shares of English stock were held in New York. Upon a bill in equity, brought by the Erie Railway Company and James Fisk, Jr., in which the English owners were made defendants, Judge Barnard appointed a receiver of these certificates, who was directed to have the shares transferred to his own name on the books. The order of the Court was promptly complied with by the company's officers. The Englishmen were deprived of the evidences of their property; the property itself stood in the name of the receiver; he attended meetings, and voted upon these sixty thousand shares in favor of the existing administration. The position was eminently ludicrous, and even "the stockless Englishmen" must have laughed if they had any sense at all of humor. They, however, were still bent on serious work. They went into the United States Courts. There they had the satisfaction of learning that the receiver had surrendered their certificates at the Erie office, in September, 1870, and had not since seen them. Some of them afterward turned up, and it appeared that for thirty thousand shares now certificates had been issued besides the certificates issued to the receiver. So the matter stood at the time of Fisk's death. The Englishmen are still at work on the case and now hope to get their rights. This Erie iniquity, an ancillary of Tammany, will be overthrown in the sweeping reform now going on.

The obsrge of the OREGONIAN that by the difficulties of the Chemeketa Hotel the State of Oregon would lose $5,300, is, we learn, entirely untrue. The Hotel Association owes the State, under a contract made with Superintendent Berry, of the Penitentiary, in Woods' time, some $4,000 for brick. But to secure this they have assigned to the State the remaining furniture and fixtures of the house, valued at $6,000, to be disposed of at the best advantage, in payment of their liabilities to the State, which it is expected will fully liquidate the amount. But any balance, if any, remaining unpaid, will be fully settled by parties interested.—Herald.

This is not the case at all. The facts in the matter alluded to, as reported to us, are these: A foundry company of this city owed the State for property bought here, which debt was secured by mortgage. The Chemeketa hotel company owed this foundry company for iron work. A "turn" was made whereby the foundry company were released from their debt to the State, the mortgage on their property cancelled, and the debt transferred to the hotel company. To secure the debt the State authorities took a mortgage on a bare lot at Salem, which is reported to be worth not one quarter of the amount of the debt. Now the inquiry is, did this transaction take place, or not? Was or was not the foundry company (whose security was ample) released, and another corporation (whose security was insufficient) allowed to assume the obligation?

James Fisk, Jr.

No career in our time has been more intensely dramatic than the one which closed yesterday in the death of James Fisk. His life was passed entirely in the public view. The whole world rang with the reports of his preposterous transgressions. No name of any American was better known at home or abroad. He rose at one bound to the summit of apparent success. He seemed for a time impregnable to the combined attack of honest creditors and dishonest foes. It appeared as if he were likely to defy and evade retribution, closing a youth of audacious fraud with an age of opulence and impunity—still further demoralizing and poisoning the public conscience by the spectacle of a hollow decorum assumed when the objects of villainy were accomplished. It is true there were strong hopes indulged in these last few days that the law was to prove stronger than the cunning of the conspirators who had so long defied it. But we were not to see so common-place a close to so marvelous a history. The crime and disorder he had thriven by, were to betray him. The fabric reared by fraud and violence was to crumble by the touch of murder. The short and vivid life was to end in a tragedy which should form a fitting close to it, and point its meaning forever as a memory and a warning.

It is the irony of destiny that the objects which no genius, no industry, no devotion can accomplish are sometimes composed in a moment by a freak of circumstance. For several years the bar of two continents have been laboring to lessen the grasp of this persistent adventurer upon the life of the Erie Road, and all to no apparent effect. But by means which are contemptibly trivial the work is almost done. The provoking fascinations of a light woman, the anger and jealousy of two dissolute men, give rise to a deadly feud and to endless wranglings, until at last, by the very necessity of their natures and the imperious demands of their brutal instincts, the two enemies are brought into position where there is no turning or retreating. There was never an ignobler quarrel over a more worthless stake; but that unreasoning infatuation which even before Helen was the most prolific source of wars, was enough to fill for months the courts of justice with unseemly noise, and at last to call in assassination to close the scene and carry off both disputants, the one to the grave and the other to jail. The pistol shot of a cyprian's champion will have its echo in every Exchange of the world.

It is doubtful whether even in this age, so fruitful in phenomenal men and in sudden transitions, any more picturesque life than Fisk's can be recorded. His purposes were as insane as those of Troin or Cleotz, yet he accomplished them all. His morals were as loose as those of Casanova or Lauzun, yet in this reticent age he had no reserve or concealments. He was an adventurer as fantastic as Cagliostro, but never pretended to be anything more than what he was. "If I were not Alexander," said the Macedonian, "I would be Diogenes!" This Yankee peddler was both—cynic and conqueror. Even fiction furnishes few personages more absurd in qualities and fortune. Falstaff was not droller, more sensual, and more prudent. The list which Leporello made of his master's victims was scarcely more varied in race and name than that of this travesty of Don Juan. Even the story of Aladin ceases to seem so impossible when we think of this illiterate Vermonter stepping almost without an interval from his cart of notions to take the reins of a great corporation, to purchase to-day a fleet and to-morrow a theater, to make to-day a panic and to-morrow a statute, to buy legislatures and prima donnas, to dazzle Wall street with the brilliancy of his thefts and Central Park with the splendor of his equipages; to compliment Sardanapolus with Robert Macaire.

It is not creditable to our society and our civilization that such careers are possible. But the public conscience, if not vigorous enough to prevent them, has still enough vitality to mark and to resist them. In the hight of his power Tweed knew no men but politicians. When Fisk was the most dreaded man in the business world, he had no social relations. His four-in-hand usually convoyed more spotted reputations than his own. His box in his own Opera House was shunned as if infected, by all who had any character to lose. The enormous diamonds he so delighted to wear only shed a stronger light upon the isolation in which he lived.

His eccentricities marked him out for punishment. He lived so much in the public eye, his vanity and desire for admiration made him so grotesquely picturesque, that he became a sort of type of that spirit of lawless fraud and plunder which created him and by which he flourished. It was strong and vigorous in Wall street long before him. He was plucked and stripped by it when he first arrived here. He grappled with it, and at last forced it to serve him. There were worse men in the street than he could learn to be. When he is laid away in a grave where only a few will regret him, meaner and cooler rogues, who now join in condemning him, will go on cheating their friends and neighbors the same as before. But the public notice and reprobation was attracted by the magnitude, the audacity, and the marvelous luck of this man's ventures. His carriage, his gems, and his uniforms continually advertised him to the general indignation, as the plumage of a tropical bird betrays him to the hunter. His flashes of cynical and defiant humor furnished unfailing quotations to the haunters of the Clubs who initiated in silence the vices they affected to denounce. He was a predestined scape-goat, and so Wall street willingly loaded all its sins on his broad shoulders and sent him out into the wilderness of ill-repute.

We know the worst of him. What there was good in him the world has had little chance to learn. He was no hypocrite—if that is any praise. When he devoured the widow's substance, he differed from many of his associates in refraining from the pretence of long prayers. In the household circle where he was known, before he became the James Fisk, Jr., of history, he will be sincerely mourned and wept. Perhaps it is well that we should leave his story as it is known to the world—a warning and a lesson. There would be little to regret in the close of his career, if the public reprobation which was so freely lavished upon him could be be turned upon the system that produced him and the slyer transgressors he has left behind.

The Sacramento Union shows by comparison the relative cost of railway travel in California and in Oregon. It says: The Central Pacific now charges nearly eight cents to all way stations being within the State of California. The California road was built wholly upon the gifts and loans of the United States, this State and municipalities within the State. Holladay's enterprise was mainly conducted on his own money and money borrowed on the credit of the company. Yet his road now carries passengers at less than six cents per mile, though there is no competition to compel him to be moderate in his rates.

A bill has been introduced in Congress to abolish all port and pilot charges at the different ports of the United States, and to place the whole subject under general regulations to be prescribed by Congressional law. This can be done under the clause of the Constitution which gives Congress the power to regulate commerce. Another resolution has been reported in Congress authorizing an inquiry as to what restraints national commerce is subjected to under State laws. It is desirable that this investigation be extended to the Pacific Coast.

Some inquiry is made as to whether Mr. Cartwright, U. S. Attorney for Oregon, resigned or was removed from office. Mr. Cartwright is not now a citizen of Oregon. Two or three months ago he removed with his family to Yakima in Washington Territory. The office therefore became vacant and the appointment of ex-Gov. Gibbs followed.

Mrs. Fair's mother refuses to give up the $16,000 which the former put in her keeping, and suit is to be commenced to recover it.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—A trotting race, two miles and repeat, came off at the Agricultural Park to day, between Democrat, Nellie Gratton, Lady Emma and Susie Hill, which was attended by the Japanese Embassy and a large number of citizens. Nellie Gratten won the first heat, time, 5:35½; second heat declared no heat on account of foul driving of Susie Hill, who was distanced, time, 5:35½; third and fourth heats were won by Democrat, time 5:33½ and 5:36½. After which there was a grand display of running horses—fashion—four in hand and double teams, which passed off very satisfactorily to all concerned.

Laughlin Garrigan hit a man on the head with a rock and was arrested and fined five dollars. Subsequently the party hit died from erysipelas supervening on the wound, and to-night Garrighan was re arrested and booked for manslaughter.

The Japanese had a grand time at Bay District Park to day. They are spending money lavishingly, having already paid out four times as much in San Francisco as was expended by any of the Eastern excursionists who visited San Francisco since the completion of the Railroad. As an instance of their lavishness, it is stated they have ordered from Bradley & Rulofson sixty dozen photographs, and their expenditures in almost everything else is on a similar scale. On Monday next they will visit the wine cellars and study the process of champagne making at the establishment of Lemberger & Co.

President Grant.

MISAPPREHENSION OF THE PRESIDENT'S CHARACTER.—CONCURRENT TESTIMONY.

[Washington Correspondence of the Worcester Spy.]

Any day I could take my reader to a score of intelligent and even prominent men, nearly all of whom would wholly disagree in their estimate of General Grant's character. About one-fourth would term him stupid, coarse, undignified, etc.; one-third of the remainder would deem him able and wily, but corrupt; the balance would, in expressing their conviction, declare that the President is able and honest, sincere in his purpose and generally wise in his policy and administration. Of those who affirm him stupid, etc., generally find some have been offended by some want of tact, or by, perhaps, over-directness, either from the President himself or more likely some one about him. Perhaps his most implacable, as they certainly are the most annoying, fogs in this respect, are the large number of young men who furnish much comment and gossip for the press of the country from this "whispering gallery" of the nation. I am confident that this feeling of antagonism is generally due to something which has occurred at the White House, and which they have regarded as a personal slight. They certainly have not failed in so resenting it. In most cases what has been construed by them to mean dislike of their profession has been either indifference (a still more unpardonable sin to the morbidly sensitive) or, what is more likely, a desire to act fairly to all. Public men are slow to learn that the fourth estate is a real force. They appreciate the newspaper in its totality as a result, but generally harbor a contempt or dislike for the journalist individually. I suppose it must be acknowledge that the genius known as "the Washington Correspondent" is of rather an exasperating character. He is generally a young man of first rate ability, but not of real convictions, yet eminently practical, and patriotic according to his lights. He feels that he is in a place where he can exercise a strong personal influence. Being generally a full and even belligerent believer in journalism being a profession, demanding that its dignity shall be recognized, "our correspondent" is always ready "to go for" any one who does not accept this. Somehow the White House appears totally oblivious of the idea that a newspaper has any personality to be offended or mollified. Its inmates have suffered from this lack of appreciation. But to return, newspaper antagonists began by declaring Grant stupid. They now affirm him dangerous. Most of them are highly offended because he has no "style." He walks unattended up and down the avenue, smokes his cigar, puts his hands in his pantaloons pockets, or clasps them behind him, and, with head bent, saunters along, "inviting his soul," as Walt Whitman might say, "to loaf and take its ease." Grant's female antagonists are very much offended because he has "no dignity"—that is, he is not like Robert E. Lee or Salmon P. Chase, perhaps, always poising himself for an historical portrait. Grant does not appear like a man who is at all afraid of the world's finding him in undress. The saying that no man is a hero to his valet who would have no terrors for him, for it has never entered his mind to ostcem himself a hero, and therefore, valet or not, he would be natural alike to all.

With all this divergence of opinion about the mental characteristics of the President, it is very notable to observe that those who know him best like him most. The highest estimate of his intellectual capacity has come from his enemies—Frank Blair, for example.

But take the opinion of men who are about him. George S. Boutwell, Secretary of the Treasury, says that Gen. Garnt is a man greatly underestimated by many. He has stated several times that, in Cabinet, the President almost always heads, that he has distinct ideas, and valuable ones, on all the multifarious topics of importance which come under consideration, and that, instead of being a silent, or in any way stupid man, he is ready, quick and almost always well and even minutely informed. Governor Boutwell is not regarded as at all enthusiastic, and even he warms when speaking of the President.

Secretary Robeson, a very shrewd and keen sighted man of affairs, declares that Grant is the leader of his Cabinet on all important topics. In the main he has taken the initiative on all the principal features of his administration. Mr. Robeson's praise is reaffirmed by others.

George William Curtis has several times expressed surprise at not only the comprehension of the civil service question shown by the President, but his very complete mastery of its details. When Mr. Curtis first came he doubtless expected he would have both to convert and instruct the Executive. Of course that gentleman has never said this, but he stated he was very much gratified, as well as astonished, to find General Grant very well posted, not only on our own, but the civil service system of other countries.

Other gentlemen whom I know, well informed on distinct topics, have at times expressed, in my hearing, their surprise to find the President so well informed on their peculiar specialty. The matter of Ku Klux outrages, and legislation thereon, is another of these examples. Senator Scott, or Representative Stevenson, the two members of the Investigating Committee, who may be deemed most thoroughly informed thereon, have said, over and over again, that the President understands the subject better than they do. Senator Scott stated last fall that he was the best informed man in the country on this matter. I could go on and spin this letter out with concurrent testimony, but forbear.

I know what will be said—that there must be something lacking when the President requires to be systematically shown to be regarded as a man of large intellectual ability. I admit the force of the suggestion, but demur to the natural deduction, on the ground that it has been rendered necessary by reason of the systematic underrating of him which has been so marked a feature of our politics for the past two years. No man has been more thoroughly "set upon" or designedly overshadowed by the weight and ægis of prominent personalities than has the President.

Notices under the head Births, Marriages and Deaths will be charged ten cents per line—not less than 50 cents for any notice under these heads.

SAN JOSE, August 25, 1871.

DR. A. M. LOPEZ & CO.: This is to certify that I, the undersigned, have been sick for five years with Rheumatism, and have been treated for many ailments. My trouble has been weakness of the back and side, and wandering pains all over my body. I have been treated by many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco, as well as of this city, but without any effect. At last I was induced to try your UNK WEED REMEDY, and the result was that after taking the contents of two bottles I found myself perfectly cured. To all afflicted with Rheumatism, I say TRY THE UNK WEED REMEDY, and you will be cured. Yours truly,

CITY.

THE WEATHER—A CONTRAST.—People who have not become acclimated in Webfoot are delighted with the present fashion of the weather, principally because the sun shines, we suppose. Those who have been here years enough to be genuine Webfeet, however, are catching terrible colds, as they always do when the weather fairs off, and are spending about half their time in cussing about the state of the thermometer. Thus opinions differ, and the poor weather goes from one to another as in a game of battledore. Bad, however, as our noses are (they require an immense deal of attention) we are really better off than some of our fellow creatures at the East. For instance, an Eastern exchange puts up the weather situation thus: "This is the kind of weather that makes the livery and doctor's business lively. Those who start out for a sleighride now-a-days usually take a buggy along to ride home in, and vice versa, while some livery stable keepers employ a corps of men with thermometers on their hats to stand around town and watch for any change in the weather that will necessitate the change of their rolling stock from runners to wheels. The man that is frost bitten to-day dies of sun stroke to-morrow, and one physician informs us he treated a patient on Christmas for coup de soleil by putting ice on his brain, who was brought to his office yesterday to have the frost taken out of his wooden leg so that the sap could circulate again."

A MATTER WHICH NEEDS ATTENTION.—A few days since, a small boy in attempting to climb up on the rear platform of a car while in motion on Fourth street, was thrown to the ground with violence and severely hurt. We did not feel much compassion for the boy, because he ought to have had more sense than to attempt such a feat; but "boys will be boys," and while the world stands, there will be fool-hardy boys. It is not an uncommon thing to see a half dozen or more of boys scrambling all at once to climb upon the car platforms while the train is moving, nor is it uncommon to see some of them fall in the scramble. It cannot be expected that they will ever learn better than to try such hazardous experiments; but the men in charge of the trains can put a stop to the prantics if they will. They ought to be required to station a brakeman or some other man at the platforms to keep the boys off while the trains are passing through the city. A precaution of this sort may postpone a number of funerals.

CONCERT BY THE CATHEDRAL CHOIR.—The Sentinel publishes the programme of the Concert by the Cathedral Choir, announced to take place at Philharmonic Hall, next Thursday evening. We notice the names of such musical talent as Messrs. Neufield, DePrans, Bell, Bullard, Curtis, Harris, Hegele, Richter, Herman, etc.; Misses Katie Richards, Maggie Hickey, Annie Fitzpatrick, Anna and Emma Showers, Annie and Jolie Richardson, Sarah Kennedy, M. Egan, Mrs. Kast, etc. There are fifteen pieces in the programme.

MILITARY.—It had been intended to embark on board the Ajax to-day three companies of the Twenty-third Infantry, now at Vancouver, but lately stationed at Fort Lapwai and other points in Idaho or Eastern Oregon. They are the companies of Captains Kelly, Smythe and Smith, and are under orders for the Department of Arizona. The sailing of the steamer at an earlier hour than had been anticipated may break up the arrangement, however. The next steamer will take other troops for the same destination.

ELECTED BY THE COURTS.—The Evening Bulletin says: "Lute Lindsey, of Idaho, but at present sojourning in this city, has received information that the Supreme Court of Idaho has decided that he was elected Sheriff of Ada county, and that he is, therefore, entitled to the possession of the office. The suit was brought to oust the present incumbent, who by some means obtained a certificate of election, although, as was proven afterwards, he lacked a majority of the votes."

Next Monday, January 29th, the third school quarter of St Mary's College begins.

The present number [Jan. 27] of the Catholic Sentinel closes the second year of its publication.

Next Friday the Church celebrates the Feast of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary. A High Mass will be celebrated in Cathedral Church at 9 o'clock A. M., of that day.

THE GREAT AUCTION SALE.—The great sale of furniture, etc., by Mr. Jos. Middlemiss, auctioneer, will be continued to-day. In to-day's sale many of the most desirable goods in the entire lot will be offered. There was a crowd in attendance all day yesterday, and the sale was animated. In disposing of so large a lot of desirable goods many sales very favorable to the buyer are made, and those who want articles in this line should not fail to attend. Mr. Middlemiss' manner of dispatching business gives very general satisfaction.

THE PARTY OF THE NAME OF BROWN.—This "ones proud merchant" was found in the city after he had pledged his word that he would undertake a tour of the cow counties, and being hilarious again, was again put into his little bed in the city jail. The authorities being justly indignant at his breach of promise, have properly put him at work on the streets. Brown thinks this is a vile world.

NOT AT ALL UNCOMMON.—The play bills announced yesterday morning that "The Romance of a Poor Young Man" would be enacted at the theater last evening for "the first time in this city." This may be partly, but it is not altogether, true. "The hard reality of a poor young man" has been enacted in the city many a time and oft. The two plays, we suppose are, at least, cousins.

FOR ASTORIA.—At dark last evening the steamer Dixie Thompson had not arrived from Astoria, though a day over due. Nothing had been heard from her from any of the telegraph stations below. Ice at Kalama was an inch thick yesterday afternoon. It is supposed the Dixie is ice-bound. The Okanagan will be started down the river by way of the slough at 6 o'clock this morning.

WAS IT REALLY A JOKE?—A cotemporary relates how a statist on the ice fell upon his head with such a concussion as to induce the belief in the mind of the young man that he was the best skater in the State, and calls it a joke on the poor fellow. The young man wishes it distinctly understood that if that is a joke, he will take hard knocks in his'n, hereafter.

SAILS EARLIER THAN ADVERTISED.—In consequence of unfavorable reports concerning ice in the Columbia river, it has been determined to send the steamship Ajax away at 10 o'clock this morning. It is considered hazardous to wait till evening and then have to encounter the ice after dark. People who want to send letters will have to hurry up.

CLOSING UP.—The steamer Rescue from Monticello yesterday reports that ice is forming across the Columbia far below the mouth of the Wallamet. At Willow bar, ten miles below, it was thought to connect entirely across the river. The steamer had to break this ice nearly the entire trip from Monticello to the Wallamet river.

IN BANKRUPTCY.—W. D. Hare & Co. of Hillsboro, have filed a petition in the United States District Court, praying that M. S. Hart & Co., railroad contractors, be declared bankrupts, and that a warrant be issued to take possession of and distribute their estate according to law.

DAILY PRAYER MEETINGS.—The daily noon-day prayer meetings at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, continue to be well attended. They will be kept up so long as there is the present degree of encouragement. To-day, the subject of prayer will be the Ministry.

WATCH PRESENTATION.—On Thursday evening, at a special meeting of Vigilance Hook & Ladder Co., the President, Mr. Jacob Meyer, was presented a gold watch and chain as a testimonial from the company. Mr. C. W. Parrish made the presentation speech.

IMPROVING SLOWLY.—The mail which arrived yesterday overland from California, came through from Sacramento in nine days. Even that time is an improvement upon any mail time made within the last five or six weeks.

LECTURE.—We learn that Rev. Dr. Lindsley intends to deliver a lecture to-morrow evening at the Presbyterian Church, suggested by the death of James Fisk, Jr.

SPECIAL CHURCH NOTICES.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHAPEL.—On Sunday morning the Chaplain, the Rev. John Rosenberg will preach a sermon on "Christian Education." Seats free.

COLORED CHURCH SERVICES.—Rev. Daniel Jones will preach in the colored school house on Fourth street, on Sunday at 11 o'clock A. M. and half past 7 o'clock P. M.

LUTHERAN CHURCH.—Rev. Mr. Josylin will preach in the Lutheran Church, corner Taylor and Fifth streets, Sabbath evening at 7½ o'clock. Sabbath School in the morning at 9½ o'clock.

HALL STREET CHURCH.—The second Quarterly meeting in the Hall street M. E. Church will commence this evening at 7 o'clock. The usual services will be held to-morrow, and a Love Feast will be celebrated Monday evening.

CHURCH ORGANIZATION.—A German Evangelical Lutheran congregation will be organized at half-past two o'clock to-morrow afternoon, at the Independent German School Association's School house, on Morrison street, between Seventh and Eighth.

GERMAN LUTHERAN SERVICES.—There will be services in the German language, conducted by Rev. H. Gaus, at the Independent German School house on Morrison street, at 11 o'clock to-morrow, A. M., and at half-past seven o'clock in the evening.

INSTRUCTIONS IN DOCTRINE.—Rev. Mr. Eliot will preach to-morrow evening in the Unitarian Church, corner Yamhill and Seventh streets, on the subject: "The Character of God, His Infinite Holiness and Love." The seats in the Church are free, morning and evening.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The steamship Ajax is to sail this afternoon for San Francisco.

Judge Page's sprained ankle is better, and the Judge is getting out.

The East Portlanders have a fine skating pond, and they are going it early and late.

A chess club is to be organized in this city, but there will be no blindfold nonsense.

Pat McGowan, a vagrant, was yesterday sent to jail for three months for smashing windows.

A gay and festive party were scooting the livelong day yesterday on the ice at Couch's Lake.

The Father Matthew Temperance Society now has about seventy members, and still they come.

Captain Ankeny's residence is in course of removal from Market block to a more retired locality.

Grape vine telegrams concerning the ice in the Columbia were very prevalent in the city last evening.

John Allen of Yamhill and his twenty five dollars were parted in a waiter girl saloon Thursday evening.

General George P. Ihrie, United States Paymaster, will leave by the steamer this morning for San Francisco.

It is pretty near time for the annual items to go round about the injury to next year's fruit crop by the severe weather.

"An old gray horse, he crossed the road, he crossed the road, he did, sir," yesterday, much to the amusement of a crowd who called it a runaway.

DECISION.

We are informed that on the 22d inst. the U. S. Supreme Court decided the case of W. W. Chapman, administrator of the estate of Jas. L. Loring vs. W. H. Delay et al., in favor of the defendants, upon a Writ of Error from the Supreme Court of Oregon. This case arose upon the construction of the Donation Law of Oregon and rested upon an intricate question of law. The case originated in this county, and was decided by Judge Shattuck in favor of the plaintiff, different from what the Supreme Court of the United States has decided. Judge Upton succeeding Judge Shattuck upon the bench here and having been counsel in the case, it was transferred to Judge Boise's District and he decided the same as Judge Shattuck did. The case was twice before the Supreme Court of Oregon and by it was decided each time a different way, the latter time, however, the same as the U. S. Supreme Court has decided it. Col. Chapman zealously labored for his side of the case. We understand that litigation will not stop, as the heirs of Loring, who live in Ohio, are prosecuting a suit for the same property in their own names, and it is now pending in the U. S. Circuit Court of this District.

AMUSEMENTS.

ORO FINO THEATER.—"The Romance of a Poor Young Man," was produced last evening to a small but a rather lively audience. Mr. and Mrs. Waldron were called in front of the curtain at the end of one of the acts and Mr. Waldron and Miss Annie Pixley, at the end of another. Both the ladies mentioned deserved the compliment. The play has a fine plot, the scenery is romantic and varied, and the incidents full of interest. The piece will bear repetition, and will be reproduced this evening.

SOCIAL PARTY.—There will be another social party at the American Exchange Hotel next Monday evening.

MATINEE.—The Ontoroon will be played at the matinee to-day for the last time.

THE NEW ENGLAND MOTAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY was incorporated in 1835, and is therefore the oldest purely Mutal Life Insurance Company in the United States; it has cash assets of over $10,000,000, and is the only Company on the Pacific Coast governed by the Massachusetts Non-Forfeiture Law, offering all the advantages of age and prudent management, its average expenses being lower than any other Company in the United States. It also offers protection against forfeiture by virtue of the Massachusetts NON-FORFEITURE LAW, which is a feature of great importance, and should be carefully considered by all persons seeking insurance. TESTIMONIALS.

We the undersigned having been the recipients of the services of Mrs. M. C. White in teaching the science of Music on the Pianoforte, take pleasure in giving a hearty Testimonial that we have employed her in our families as a teacher of her "New Method of Instruction," and that it has proven superior to any method we have ever known. And that although the first cost may be a trifle greater than some others, we believe it to be in the aggregate much cheaper, beside being a great economy in point of time. We, therefore, take pleasure in recommending her to the patronage of all who may be desirous of obtaining a musical education, as a very superior instructor.

To those who desire to know more about it before increasing my expense, we give a cordial invitation to call at our house and interview her pupils.

For reference see advertisement.

EAST PORTLAND, Jan. 5, 1872.

MRS. M. C. WHITE—Respected Madam—Having heard of your System of teaching the Pianoforte, known as the Robins' American Method, and having been present a few days since, at the exercises of one of your pupils, Miss Lane, of East Portland, I was much surprised and exceedingly gratified, at the perfect performance of the most difficult pieces, (such as Gottschalk Bango, etc.) and this after the short term of six months tuition.

Allow me to express my approbation of your System of your Instruction, and with my best wishes for your success allow me to subscribe myself,
Yours Respectfully,
TH. PARROT, Prof. of Music, and Leader of the East Portland Band.

An Appeal to Reason.

Health would be much more carefully guarded than it is at present, and the average of human life lengthened by many years, if common sense and the light of experience were accepted by the universal public as their medical monitor and guide. The true philosophy of health is simple. It consists in refraining from indulgences and imprudences which impair the vital forces, and in supplying any deficiency of vital power and constitutional vigor that may exist, by invigorating and alterative treatment. To reinforce and regulate a feeble system, and to prevent a more vigorous physique from yielding to unhealthy and debilitating influences, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is unquestionably the most potent of all vegetable purifyers. As a stimulant, it is the purest ever administered in medical practice; as a tonic and stomachic, the most infallible; as an anti-bilious agent, the safest and surest, and as an aperient and regulating medicine, mild and painless, yet irresistible. It is a protection against disease of every kind, and all seasons, and is particularly efficacious as a means of forearming the system against the ailments generated by a raw, damp, ungenial atmosphere. Hence its great value as a winter tonic and invigorant. No one predisposed to indigestion, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism or nervous headache, should ever be without this Vital Elixir. As a certain class of country dealers are very anxious to dose their customers with "local bitters," of a worthless and pernicious character, which they represent to be equal or superior to the great national tonic, the public is hereby forewarned against their "tricks of trade."

LITTLE HOMES!
WE HAVE OBTAINED MANY TESTIMONIALS, which appear in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN, for the purpose of answering once for all the many inquiries in relation to our "LITTLE HOMES." We desire to show to strangers, through men of known integrity in this community that they are all we claim for them—cheap at present prices, and the speculation in them lies in the future growth of Portland, in the building of Railroads, and Bridges over the Willamette—which is merely a question of time—and in the fact that in less than one mile distant, City Blocks (200 feet square) are selling for from two to three thousand dollars, and in less than two-and-a-half miles (on a direct line) blocks are selling as high as $200,000 per block! Just think of it! $50 per acre for land, and 2½ miles distant, $200,000 per acre! New York city is over twenty miles in length and six miles wide, and many other cities in the United States are half that long, and quite as wide, and if Portland becomes a metropolis she will require this land for business purposes. Thirty years ago we could have purchased a section of land where the Court House of Quincy now stands for $10 per acre; $50 for a five acre tract. Thirty years ago we could have purchased the town site of Portland for a Dayton pony—but we didn't have the pony! Twenty years ago a solitary individual, with neither money nor friends, found himself in Portland without a red. He purchased a basket "on tick," and filled it with oranges, on the same terms, and went to peddling. Twenty long, eventful years have since elapsed. Still that sturdy old pioneer has stuck to Portland, and worked his way through thick and thin; and now where do you think he is?—in the poor house, and once for the basket! But to our
TEN-ACRE TRACTS!
The land is level—some timbered and some nearly clear—its altitude about the same as Portland—good roads—never overflows, and the price is regulated by the quality of the soil and the distance from the city.
Prices:

" " 4 " " " " ..... $ 75 00

Dana Against Dana.

[From the St. Louis Democrat.]

A funny sort of retribution has fallen on the New York Sun for its bitter enmity to the President, whom it would have the public believe is without character, patriotism or brains. Copies of a campaign life of Gen. Grant, written by Charles A. Dana, the present editor of the Sun, have been unearthed, in which after several years' intimacy as assistant Secretary of War with Grant, Dana says of him:

"He had neither whims nor hobbies, neither pet theories nor visionary schemes, but was entirely free from prejudice of every sort, and better than all, he had reached that perfection of common sense which, combined with truthfulness and steadfast courage, is superior to genius! Plain and simple in his address, 'with manners unspoiled by the world,' direct in his purposes, slow to anger, sparing of words in public, free from guile and shams of every sort, and faithful in all things, he was regarded as a true friend, a good citizen, and an honest man."

He adds that he is "a great soldier, a sincere patriot and a naturally astute statesman," and a good deal more of the same sort. A year afterward Grant refused Dana's application for the Collectorship of New York, whom his views of Grant's character and abilities suddenly underwent a wonderful revolution.

The world uses 250,000,000 pounds of tea each year, and 713,000,000 pounds of coffee. China furnishes nearly all of the tea, and Brazil over one-half of the coffee. Only 140,000 parcels of Java and 18,000 pounds of Mocha are produced. The United States consumes nearly one-third of all the coffee produced in the world, and the English people are the greatest tea drinkers out of China. The Germans rank next to the Americans as coffee drinkers. The Americans consume about six pounds of coffee and 122 pounds of beef per head, counting adults and infants, each year. This looks large, but then the Yankee nation never do anything by halves.

A teacher in a Sioux City primary school made a practice of writing a word on the blackboard as a subject for each child to construct a sentence upon. One day she gave out "chimney," and this is the way a little boy "worked it in":

"I do not wear a chimney, for I am not a girl, for if I was a girl I would have to wear a chimney."

Mating dwarfs and beggars is a common thing in China. For the rest, children are put into heavy porcelain vases, where they have to remain, so that it is impossible for them to grow any larger than the interior of their prison; while the latter voluntarily submit to having their eyes taken out or their limbs broken in order to excite public commiseration.

Mr. Hileman, the oldest man in northern Illinois, died in Ward's Grove, Jo Daviess county, on the night of Dec. 30, aged 106 years. Mr. Hileman voted for Washington on his first term, and has voted at every Presidential election since, casting his last vote for President Grant.

A Kentucky girl was recently struck by lightning, but the only apparent effect of the stroke was to photograph a young man who was standing near her upon her breast. Whether this will result in any ill consequences remains to be seen.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY EVENING, Jan. 26, 1872.

Gold in New York, 109.

Portland Legal Tender quotations, 91c buying and 92c selling.

The Rothschilds have offered to take $500,000,000 of United States Bonds. The terms, so far as we are able to learn are that the Rothschilds and Jay Cooke & Co. made a proposition to take the remaining $300,000,000 new 5 per cent. bonds, and $200,000,000 of the 4½ per cents. On January 7th President Grant, Secretary Boutwell and Jay Cooke were in conference about the matter in Philadelphia. The only drawback was that they the Rothschilds and Jay Cooke, McCulloch & Co.) wish the interest upon $500,000,000 paid in Europe instead of New York, as heretofore. What the effect will be upon the Gold market is at present a matter of speculation East, but if Congress allows Secretary Boutwell to negotiate the loan upon the terms offered, and it would seem, at last mail advices, as if such was quite probable to be the case, for Secretary Boutwell was in conference with the Committee on Ways and Means relative to the subject, we should think that Gold will show a still further decline in the New York market, as that was the effect produced by the successful placing of the previous loans on that market.

The bark Harrington received the balance of her cargo to-day.

Secretary Boutwell's circular letter, under date of Washington, November 21st, 1871, regarding the transportation by passenger steamers of Coal Oil and Petroleum, created considerable discussion in business circles. For the benefit of those interested we will state that, so far as we have seen, no case of Coal Oil proper has been offered for sale in this market. Previous to the discovery of Petroleum in Pennsylvania, there was manufactured in Boston and one of two other large cities East an Oil extracted from Coal, by some process unknown to us, which was and is still called Coal Oil. This evidently is the Oil forbidden by the Secretary, and not the Refined Petroleum often sold in this market as Coal Oil.

The rapidity with which trade is centering here may cause our merchants to lose sight of the fact that they must put forth renewed efforts to bring the general merchandise traffic of Puget Sound to us. Merchants on the Sound claim that the freight tariff is too high to compare with with the tariff from San Francisco. In conversation with a leading merchant on Puget Sound, whose annual purchases, of the firm of which he is senior partner, aggregate over $200,000, as obtained from their books. He assured us that our market offers greater inducements for obtaining their supplies of Groceries, Liquors, Tobacco, Stoves, Hardware, Boots and Shoes, and Furniture than does the San Francisco market, owing to our jobbers being engaged more extensively in importing, and that those engaged more particularly in the above lines sell at very low rates, but owing to the high tariff demanded by the North Pacific Transportation Company they are unable to obtain their supplies from here. The N. P. T. Co. ought to see if this state of affairs cannot be remedied and if this cause of complaint cannot be removed, as the trade of Puget Sound is an item of great importance to us commercially, and any and every way should be adopted by those having so much interest in our growth as a city as has the different incorporated water navigation and land carriage companies to remove any and all causes of complaint. Another thing should be taken into consideration by the N. P. T. Company, and that is, when the tide of commerce is once turned to run through a particular channel it is almost impossible to cause it to set in another direction. The North Pacific Railroad Company will soon have completed their road from the waters of Puget Sound to the Columbia river, and the known policy of that Company, of making low rates the principle of success, will force them—the N. P. T. Company—to come down in rates to the detriment of their interest, as the majority of the traders and merchants on this Sound will then ship by the railroad in preference to the steamer, as they will have no old connections to sever. It was several years before the San Francisco merchants availed themselves largely of the continental railroad, and would not then only they were forced into it by new importers from the East. The cause of their being so slow to avail themselves of the railroad is well known—they had become so thoroughly identified in their shipments with the Panama Steamship Company that they were too the to dissever connections with the Company. It may be claimed that the Puget Sound trade does not pay; of this we are not fully informed, but we should think that a steamer of not less than 600 tons burthen could be regularly employed on the route, making ten-day trips, for a steamer of 600 tons capacity can carry goods of full capacity as cheaply as she can 300 tons, as it costs just so much to run her, and all over that is clear gain. Formerly there was no return cargo of any consequence, but now there is, as the steamer has a full load back every trip. The Str California takes each trip she makes more less than 250 tons, and it the majority of the Grocery trade could be centered here the Company would, it is claimed by many who are in a position to know, in a very short time have to run a larger steamer or else have the California make quicker trips.

Ohio	590,860	775,500	587,999
Iowa	81,855	128,800	80,753
Illinois	996,925	2,016,100	1,149,512
Indiana	187,011	213,255	166,288
Missouri	167,500	189,600	130,572
Tennessee	38,220	40,500	32,470
Kentucky	23,800	24,200	22,010
Kansas	18,000	20,500	13,590
	2,019,371	3,406,455	2,213,104

Estimated increase as far as reported..... 1,193,221

The receipt of Live Hogs in New York for the year 1871 was 1,334 492 against 889,625 for 1870. This large receipt in New York was in the face of a declining market, for at the commencement of the year 1871 the price was 8½@8¾c per lb, and at the close was 4½@4¾c per lb. Prices in the West show an equal falling off. The receipts at Boston for 1871 were 358,027 against 103,902 in 1870. So it would seem that although the exports have been very large, the number of Hogs slaughtered East have been equally as great and unless a renewed export demand springs up prices are apt to remain down East. The supply of Hogs on this coast is not equal to the demand and consequently the amount of Cured Meats put up on this coast is less, and we will have to obtain a large proportion of our supplies from the East which will tend to keep our market steady when the spring trade opens.

Markets.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—Flour—Unchanged.

Wheat—Quiet and weak at $1@1 29 for ordinary to good milling. Liverpool quotations, 12s 4d.

Barley—400 sks good bay browing, $1 50; 300 sks bay feed, $1 00; coast feed was sold at $1 40 and other lots offered at $1 45. Market irregular. Where sales are forced low figures have been accepted.

Oats—200 sks fancy, $1 85; otherwise the market is $1 60@1 80.

Hay—Common sold this morning at $13; good wild oat at $20, and two cargoes of choice wheat at $22.

General Merchandise.

DRY GOODS—The Boston Shipping List says: "The New Year has opened with more than the usual activity in Dry Goods and with an upward tendency in prices. All desirable descriptions of Cottons are well sold up, and for several of the leading brands of brown and bleached Sheetings and Shirtings, agents have numerous orders yet unfilled. All the popular make of Brown Sheetings and Shirtings are very firm, with an advance of ⅛@¼ yard on Massachusetts standards, and a few other brands. The following statement shows that the present prices of goods are comparatively much lower than at this time last year:

Jan. 5,	Mid. Cotton.	Standard Sheetings.
1872	20½@20¾	13 @13½

In Bleached Sheetings and Shirtings there has not been much doing since the recent reaction in prices, but stocks are light and very firmly held. Boott B is quoted at 15c, O 13c and E 12½c, which is ¾c per yard advance on C's. These brands are quite popular with the trade. In Brown Drills we notice an advance of ⅛@¼c per yard in Hamilton and Suffolk. There continues to be considerable inquiry for all kinds of colored goods and stocks are much smaller and prices firmer than usual at this season. Denims and Cottonades are particularly sought after by jobbers, for their spring trade. Cotton Flannels are in less demand, as their active season is over, and on some brands prices are lower.

Daily Receipts of Produce.

Per E. N. Cooke—200 bxs apples, 400 bbl flour, 10 sks dried apples, 4 cs bacon, Allen & Lewis; 13 gunnies bacon, Leveridge, Wadhams & Co; 20 bxs apples, D. Lower; 2,000 qr sks flour, Sawier & Co.; 18 sides, to order.

Per Senator—1,100 bf sks flour, 1,000 qr sks flour, 201 bxs apples, Allen & Lewis; 1,020 bf sks flour, 80 sks feed, Williams & Myers; 100 sks feed, Everding & Farrell.
